

we seem to be spending billions on homeland security, searching all crew members among others for weapons. why allow cell phones on board aircraft to complicate an already tense atmosphere. we flight attendants already have many new security duties and our crew members have been reduced. mass cell phone use makes a negative impact on security and already harried travelers.